The Centre for Sustainable Design® at UCA is an internationally renowned centre of excellence, and is recognised worldwide for its knowledge and expertise, having worked closely with business, policymaking and research communities for two decades. Under the direction of Professor Martin Charter the centre has built world-class knowledge and expertise of sustainable innovation and product sustainability. The Centre researches, develops and disseminates understanding of present and future sustainability impacts and solutions related to innovation, products, technologies, services and systems through projects, training, events, networks and information.

The Centre for Sustainable Design® is now offering a three year fully-funded PhD studentship to conduct research into the broad area of sustainability, innovation, design and making: We are looking to recruit a suitably qualified candidate with proven interests and knowledge of this area of research, and would be interested to receive research proposals from applicants from any disciplinary background who feel they can contribute to our work.

Research topics might include:

- Eco-innovation
- Circular economy
- Making, modifying and fixing

- Design, fabrication & sustainability
- Green business models

Award

The award includes PhD registration fees (H/EU - £4,370) for 3 years full-time plus an annual stipend of £14,057 (equivalent to the value RCUK)

Criteria

To be eligible applicants must have completed a postgraduate qualification - MA, MBA, MFA, PGDip or MRes or equivalent programme of study in an arts discipline.

If English is not the candidate's first language an English Language qualification is required – IELTS 7.00 or above or another equivalent English Language qualification.
